event start and complete

Daniel Leifert | November 10, 2019 reminder main database and app window calendar memory -event begins-Alternative -set event to in progress—▶ [user: start event] prompt user for end time input at scheduled end -[input received]: set event to complete-[user: snboze] user: input snooze amount or new start time Alternative [schedule conflict] -prompt reschedule-[no conflict] -set new start and end timescontinued [user: reschedule] user edits and saves a valid schedule -set new start and end times and update schedule [user: no response at any step] -set event to in progressrenotify at every notification interval until input

Description

This blank UML template can help you:

- Access shapes to create UML activity, sequence, state machine, or use case diagrams
- Describe the boundary, structure, and behavior of a system and its objects
- Create a UML diagram starting from a blank canvas

Add content to customize this blank canvas to your use case.

Tutorials

(Hold Shift + ℜ or Ctrl, then click)

